

Executive Proclamation

Office Of The Governor

WHEREAS, The International Federation of Home Economics (IFHE), founded in 1908, is the only world home economics organization; and,

WHEREAS, The International Federation of Home Economics, now headquartered in Paris, is composed of members from 83 countries; and,

WHEREAS, Beginning in 1922, United States home economists have been involved with and have supported the International Federation of Home Economics; and,

WHEREAS, The International Federation for Home Economics seeks to "promote the development of home economics in all countries through formal, informal and nonformal education related to personal, family and communal living" as stated in its constitution; and,

WHEREAS, The International Federation for Home Economics represents home economists throughout the world where members participate in the United Nations organizations of UNESCO, FAO, UNICEF, and ECOSAC and in world conferences which deal with personal and family life; and,

WHEREAS, Through the International Federation for Home Economics, home economists have the opportunity to have a part in helping less fortunate families in the third world countries who daily fight hunger and ill health with inadequate housing, sanitation, and water; and,

WHEREAS, The invitation was made by the International Federation for Home Economics for a World Home Economics Day to be celebrated each March in all countries:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, WILLIAM J. JANKLOW, Governor of the State of South Dakota, do hereby proclaim March 25, 1983, as in South Dakota and urge all South Dakotans to consider deeply and thoughtfully the significance of world home economics.

ATTEST:

Alice Kundert
ALICE KUNDERT, SECRETARY OF STATE
